Say the knowledge-holders, sacrifice opens doors. No true entering is done without sacrifice.

When one puts forth one takes in, say the knowledge-holders.

Say the knowledge-holders, loving cannot be done without sacrifice; thus linking is not made without sacrifice.

Say the knowledge-holders, the motive of the sacrifice must be as great as the object.

Say the knowledge-holders, the good of the object signifies the good of the motive of the sacrifice.

Sacrifice marks the consciousness, say the knowledge-holders.
